MORE THAN 2,000 STUDENTS ENTER COUNTY SCHOOLS

Board Can't Meet All Requests for Transportation

FOR THE first time in history more than 2,000 students have been enrolled in the Marshall County Schools. The 1949 enrollment figure released this week by Superintendent Holland Rose showed 2,083 children, compared to 1,994 last year.

The increased enrollment of 89 is somewhat equally distributed through all the grades. Mr. Rose announced that teachers have been secured for all positions open.

The County Board of Education has not been in a position to meet all the requests for transportation, he said, because funds are not available to purchase needed buses. Every effort is being made to solve the transportation problem as fast as funds will permit, he said.

Marion Wins 13-5 Here on Sunday

BENTON'S Lions went one down in the Twin States Playoff here Sunday when its pitching faltered and Marion rapped out a 13-5 victory.

Charlie and Johnson were the Marion battery while Willie Jones led off in the Benton pinching parade and was followed by Country Thompson and Smith Dunn, who made their initial appearances on the hill. Culp did the catching.

DAM ATTRACTS 62,000 OVER ONE WEEK END

WITH A record-breaking total of 61,973 visitors at Kentucky Dam and the adjoining state park over the two-day Labor Day week end, the Marshall County vacation area created wide attention.

The Labor Day attendance count was described by a TVA spokesman as one of the most accurate ever made at the dam. Counters on the access road and Kentucky 493 and 267 showed 14,759 cars, while an officer with a hand counter checked the average number of passengers to be 4.2 per car.

SUNDAY was the biggest single day for the dam, with 32,000 visitors. In the meantime Kentucky Lake State Park, believed by many of be the most beautiful spot on the lake, drew additional thousands in another week end.

The Council Has Done a Lot

LET US GIVE THANKS: For the work that has been done by our city councilmen during the past decade. They've been cussed and spewed at but have stayed right on the job — ignoring the malicious criticism, examining carefully the constructive kind. They have tried hard to do things for the city and have had many headaches the average citizen doesn't know exist. They are putting the water system back in good shape and recently finished getting the town re-wired. They were cussed for getting the streets paved—but few and far between are those who would take their money back and resort to the dust and gravel days again.

They had the courage to vote for parking meters—knowing that they might be criticized severely for it. Fortunately, the rhubarb was left off this time—and we believe the meters and parking parallel to the curb will help the town just as most of their other acts have done.

Mistakes? Sure, some may have been made. None of us are perfect. Other things to do? Certainly — there are hundreds of things yet to be done. We can't afford to sleep — or to have a council that sleeps. Nor should we fail to recognize the forward steps that have been and are being taken by the six men who now direct the city's affairs.

An examination of the record indicates that the council has not been asleep—that a lot of kinks have been straightened out—that a lot of foundation work has been done—that the way has been paved for the next council (be it the same men again or new ones) to push ahead with more clear sailing. Messrs. Morgan, Kinney, Sled, Leneave, Dunn, Lane, and Rudolph—your efforts have not gone unnoticed.

Calvert Road Needs Paving

IF YOU don't think it's any of a country editor's business to comment on the county's roads and highways, start backing your truck of defamatory adjectives to our door—for here's another. However we hardly see how this one could rub the fuzz the wrong way.

With Kentucky Dam and Kentucky Lake drawing millions of tourists each year, it would seem that the state would be interested in seeing that all the access roads to the dam would be in good shape.

THE STATE has shown its interest in developing the area by pouring hundreds of thousands of dollars into building up two state parks, publicizing the area, and even re-surfacing the Main Access Road.

Running somewhat parallel and a few miles to the north lies another state highway that runs to Kentucky Dam—the Calvert City Highway. While it may not be the PRIMARY means of access to the dam, it is used by thousands who go to the dam via Paducah. In fact, many probably think it's the best way to go.

In addition to this, Calvert City has the Pennsalt and Pittsburgh Metallurgical Plants, which, entail considerable traffic to and from the town, which is due to be the county's industrial center.

WITH THIS in mind it doesn't seem to be asking too much to have the state divert some of its funds for projects of this type to re-surfacing the Calvert Highway. It's rough, rugged and dangerous—even though it definitely travel-able.

In places the road is so rough that it almost shakes a car to pieces at 35-40 miles an hour—and therein lies the danger...to local folks and tourists unfamiliar with the road.

In addition to this with all the promotion that is being given to the lake, it would seem like a good public relations program to have all roads leading to the dam paved—nice and smooth. How about it?

That Curve Again

WE HATE to bring it up again—for it appeared to be settled long ago—that curve at the intersection of Kentucky 408 and U. S. 66 at Gregory Corner.

Shortly after the discussion last fall—and following a batch of letters sent to Frankfort by Benton citizens, civic leaders, businessmen and others who want the curve straightened, officials of the State Highway Department gave assurance that something would be done.

TRUCKS and equipment soon appeared and the road bed was altered as if they meant business. Everyone then forgot about it—thinking it was more or less settled.

That was ten months ago—and the curve still exists. In fact, only a couple of weeks ago an Indiana doctor and his wife were injured and their car smashed to the extent of several hundred dollars when they tried to make the "Mae West Curve" at a normal rate of speed.

WHAT'S WRONG, Mr. Lee Puryear? Has the thing been forgotten...was the new, straightened bed for Kentucky 408 blocked off so it would have time to settle before the few yards of asphalt are added...is there some engineering problem that necessitates waiting a year to finish the job? We ask only because we don't know—and are curious.

We might add this note to the East Side Promoters Club: The fact that we want the curve eliminated in no way means we oppose paving the Cutoff Road...no matter what anyone tells you. The paving is scheduled next year—and we're glad! In the meantime we'd like to see little more action on the unfinished business of the curve.

Scouting in Brief

MOVEMENT TO BE EXPLAINED IN THREE ARTICLES

INTRODUCTION

The Boy Scouts of America is recognized as a vital part of America. During the first three and a half decades, over 13,500,000 men and boys have been registered members of this agency for character building and citizenship training. Its Long-Span Program of Cubbing, Scouting and Senior Scouting is available to all boys in America from eight years of age, regardless of race or creed.

Yet, because the Game of Scouting is so spectacular and dramatic, it is a fact that it enjoys almost too much repute, among people who have only superficial understanding of what it actually is. This has proved an actual handicap. It is but natural that the thousands and thousands of men and women in all parts of our country who are impressed with the values of Scouting, ask for an authoritative statement concisely covering the fundamentals of the Boy Scout Movement. "Scouting in Brief" will be divided into three articles:

1. History of the Boy Scouts in America and its origin in England.
2. The Essentials of the Boy Scout Movement.
3. How the Community and Institution use the Program.

"Scouting in Brief" will be in your Tribune-Democrat for the purpose of orienting people with interest in Scouting, and giving them a broad picture of the aims and purposes of the Scout Program. Also a clear explanation of the method by which organizations and groups of citizens may use the Program.

If questions occur as these articles appear please feel free to contact Barney Smith your District Field Scout Executive at Mayfield 95J or during his regular visit in your community.

No Iron Curtain

"We read a lot these days about an Iron Curtain maintained by a certain nation. In contrast, Woodcraft's motives are crystal clear, completely unselfish... there is no Iron Curtain here.

"All may see the relief in a widow's eyes... when the Society's check is handed to her. All may observe how fraternity is made practical when a Camp harvests an ill member's crop... presents a flag to a school... a medal to a student of history. Nor is there any secret when they establish a blood bank, present a wheel chair, or unveil an historical marker." —From an editorial by President Farnus Newberry in Woodmen of the World Magazine.

Cherry Grove:

VISITORS FROM FAR AND NEAR

By Effie Bowden

Visiting in and out of the Grove:

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Houser and children of Chicago visited home folks last week end. The Housers of the Grove visited the "Cherry Grove Smiths," now in Paducah, last Tuesday week.

In Cadiz over last week end attending the Little River Association: The G. L. Hamiltons, the Charley Licks, the J. T. Hensons, Clifton Edwards' family, Ambrose Henson, the T. S. Chesters, Mrs. Tula Peck and this family.

Mrs. Boone Lyles of Route 1 recently visited in Nashville over the week end. Her brother, Basil Darnall, former countant now in Boston, has been her guest this summer. Mrs. Pearl Vaughn of Route 7 had as her summer guest, daughter Clara of Cincinnati. Luther Portis, and Robert Portis of Detroit, both Cherry Grove sons, have been vacationing in Benton and the Grove.

Willie Mathis of Route 3 suffered a painful accident when a mule he was yoking twisted his lower limb. Mrs. Cecil Rudd is in bed at her home on Route 3.

RETURN HOME AFTER EXTENDED VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Faughn and children, John Mark and Bill, have returned to their home in Sheffield, Ala., after a three-week vacation, during which they visited Mr. and Mrs. Buel Edwards of Fair Dealing; Mrs. Ret Walker of Benton, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Faughn of near Hardin. Mr. Faughn has been employed for the past eight years with the TVA in Sheffield.

Around The Square

WHITE SIDEWALLS: A few years ago Tom Jones of Poplar Street got a chapped face from working in the wind.

Before going to bed he grabbed the white bottle that sat in the medicine cabinet and rubbed it on — thinking a little Jergens lotion might help.

A few hours later daughter Hazel came in from a date. Tom slept soundly while the reflection from the open grate in the room flared on his face.

"Father," Hazel shrieked, "What on earth is the matter? Are you dead?" She almost hysterically shook Tom.

"Whatza matter?" Mr. Jones inquired as he rubbed his eyes. He had grabbed a bottle of white shoe polish.

GLAD TO HAVE Pat Moore back with us—this time in the restaurant business. Pat was manager of the National Store here several years and was one of the most active workers in the Lions Club—at one time being president of the local group, later district governor.

CLINT ANERSON, who banked the 39-pound blue catfish below the dam the other day, said he could sell a dozen of 'em if he could catch 'em. Fish appetites must be on the increase.

IF YOU WANT to see something super in the way of an indoor theatre in a middle-sized town, just take a look at the new Varsity Theatre in Martin, Tenn. (population about 5,000). It was built by the Ruffin Amusement Company, which owns the Benton Theatre—and compares favorably with any I've ever seen anywhere, regardless of size.

NELLIE'S (Mrs. Gipp Watkins') Star of Bethlehem plant created quite a commotion in our community the other night when it opened. The star and manger were realistic enough—but by no stretch of the imagination could we locate the baby. Nobody but "Pop," that is.

EFFIE BOWDEN'S column of August 26 caused a lot of comment. The one in which the roving reporter told about the vacations being taken by folks all over the county—where, they went, how long they stayed, what they did.

SOMETHING NEW hasn't really been added. We were quite red-faced last Friday morning when we noticed the following phrase in one of our front page stories: "Calvert City Methodist Church of Christ." We hadn't received any letters, notes or phone calls at the time this was written—but we expect them any minute. The best proof we have that people read the paper is that nobody ever fails to let us know about our mistakes—which is as it should be. Apologies to both Calvert churches. The note should have been about the Calvert Church of Christ meeting now underway by Bro. Fred Chunn.

MULCH BERRIES EARLY, ADVISES AGENT

Production Up In Fields With Winter Work

The strawberry season is still some eight months away—but it is none too soon for the farmer to give his 1950 crop some serious attention during the coming fall and winter seasons, County Agent J. Homer Miller said today.

"A few extra hours labor today may save many hours later—and a few dollars wisely spent stands a good chance to increase production up to 30 per cent an acre," he said.

To get the greatest yield there are a number of things that growers may do this fall. Some berries have not set a good row and should be fertilized with a complete fertilizer to stimulate growth, the county agent suggested.

An additional application of 500 to 1,000 pounds of 4-12-4 fertilizer should give excellent results if applied in early fall. The use of 1,000 pounds of superphosphate or its equivalent has given good results when used as a top dressing in either fall or early spring.

In some years strawberries have made more than 300 crates where proper cultural practices have been followed, he explained.

Putting on mulch in early December, one and one-half ton per acre, gave an average of 30 crates per acre more than those mulched in the spring over a nine-year test period. "The labor requirements would be the same regardless of the time of mulching. When there are temperatures of 10 or 12 degrees of colder, however, with no snow on the ground, strawberries suffer if they are unmulched. The blossom clusters, crowns or roots are injured to such extent that blooming is reduced and many plants fail to bloom at all. The non-blooming, or so called "he pants," are the result of winter injury—which can be prevented by the early December mulching," Mr. Miller added.

When baled straw is used for mulching the bales should be taken to the patch in September and the wires clipped so that the straw will soak up fall rains and germinate any grain or weed seed before the mulch is spread.

In addition to giving winter protection the mulch keeps the berries clean at harvest, hold moisture, helps keep down the weed growth in the spring and reduces soil erosion.

NEW CHEMICAL BATTLES FLIES

They Now Seem Immune to DDT

Health officials announced today the use of a new chemical called Lindane in the fight against flies that have become at least partially immune to DDT.

Lindane, a war time development, is now available for general use to treat walls of barns, dairies and other out-buildings. Lindane cannot be used directly on livestock. It is being used experimentally in a limited number of places in Marshall County today. Fred Mortan, entomologist of the State Department of Health, reports that "DDT is much slower in killing the house fly than when it was first used. This is the natural result obtained when most individuals in the fly population are killed off, leaving only the harder ones to reproduce."

Lindane has been found to be very effective against flies for a period of two months.

Kentucky Farmers Are Using More Fertilizer To Boost Yields Per Acre and Replenish Soil

Money Invested in Fertilizer Pays Out in More Efficient Crop Production.

CHICAGO—Kentucky farmers are using more fertilizer in growing their crops, according to the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. Figures made available by the National Fertilizer Association show that approximately 594,321 tons of plant food were used on farms in the state last year, compared with 465,551 tons in the preceding year.

This was an increase of 128,770 tons, or about 28 per cent over Kentucky's 1947 consumption. It represented a 482 per cent gain over the prewar year of 1940.

The 1948 fertilizer consumption for the entire United States topped the previous record year of 1947 by about 6 per cent or 15,956,289 tons as against 15,039,376 tons.

The steadily increasing use of fertilizer in the past 10 years is attributed to these factors: 1—The desire of farmers to boost crop yields per acre and their readiness to apply

MARSHALL COUNTY PASTURES AIDED BY FERTILIZER

Lime, Phosphate Show Results, Miller Declares

Land treated with lime and phosphate has produced excellent pastures in Marshall County, notes Graham Wilkins, county soils assistant. C. L. Walker, a demonstration farmer in the Maple Springs community, has a five-acre pasture which he has improved in the past three years.

The year before he started improving his pasture, he had five cows in the field and was forced to sell two because of insufficient pasture. This year he has pastured five cows and two mules in the field, and has cut one ton of hay per acre. Mr. Walker attributes his increased grazing to the use of lime and phosphate and plenty of good seed.

RUPTURE

SHIELD EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVNAN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at the Irvin Cobb Hotel, Paducah, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 13 and 14, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.
Mr. Shevnan says: The Zotic Shield is a tremendous improvement over all former methods, affording immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly in place, but it will increase the circulation, strengthen the weakened parts, and thereby close the opening in 10 days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.
Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge, 6509 N. Artesian Ave. Chicago 45. Large incisional hernia or rupture following surgical operation especially solicited.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The Rev. James C. Ashbridge, superintendent of evangelism and enlistments of the Blood River Association, has asked the people of the Vanzara Community to meet him at the store to discuss matters of importance Sunday afternoon, September 18.

FIGHTING FIRE
 IS A WAR THAT NEVER ENDS

Fire Prevention Beats Fire Fighting

Everyone can serve in the war against forest fires . . . and the duration is from now on! Any one of us, by a thoughtless act of carelessness, can cause a disastrous forest fire. The most effective way to fight forest fires is never to start one. Always remember that one bad fire can wipe out hundreds of good jobs.

"Meet Me in St. Louis" . . .

. . . this might well have been the theme song of Woodmen field representatives out to win all-expense trips to the Society's field conference in St. Louis this month.

More than 200 field men will be guests at this meeting . . . their reward for achieving the best scores in persistency, i.e., the lowest percentage of lapses among the membership applications they have written.

The longer you keep it, the more valuable your Woodmen membership becomes. Along with safe, sound life insurance protection, Woodmen also enjoy many "plus" benefits from Woodcraft's fraternal activities.
